

70lbs — 70lbs

Williams is a person who likes to keep fit. Besides studying, he spends almost all his time doing exercises. For fitness people, diet is the most important thing, but he has never found a proper menu in school, because it is a waste of time to cook by himself at home, and he still needs classes.

Williams's friend, Jeff, is a student in the school of engineering. After hearing Williams' problem, he decided to make an app in order to provide students with a platform to browse the school's dining room meal.

Jeff created the app.

Jeff helped Williams customize the fitness diet meal on the software, found the restaurant address and paid in advance.

200lbs — 200lbs

Through this app, Williams is full of energy and has more and more muscle.

Williams recommended the app to other people who love fitness or sports.
